OUTLINE 3/20/2024

Bitz Twins, Bunsen and Nuzzie, are playing at the Beach District along with Big G, who lives in the district. Bunsen wondered how amazing it would feel to be like Big G, with a big, cool, hefty body. Bunsen was struck with an idea, which he would plan out in his room late at night, much to the annoyance of Nuzzie. Bunsen wants to create a mecha suit that can be powered by both twins.

Later, Bunsen makes measurements around Big G, who showed disapproval of the mecha suit, as he's a pacifist and wouldn't want an imitation of him wandering around town and doing more harm than good. But Bunsen asserts his idea and promises that he'll be careful.

Running low on materials to build the exterior, Bunsen gathers materials from the dump and meets up with Junior, who wonders how awesome it would be to ride inside one and build large wooden structures with it. Bunsen doesn't believe it would be cool, though, and scurries back home with his things.

After assembling together everything, Bunsen shows off his plans to Nuzzie and begs her for help with carrying and building the suit, to which Nuzzie reluctantly agrees. They built the mecha suit in their garage, Wallace and Gromit style. Nuzzie starts to admire the suit a little.

Bunsen and Nuzzie start riding the mecha suit. They attempt to hop around, but it only shakes the grounds. They attempt to do acrobatics, but their sluggish form causes the mecha to trip and fumble around CRiTORA.

Meanwhile, Big G takes in the sights of the Jungle District. Deep within the woods, however, he is cornered by a ViRUS. Although he attempts to avoid getting infected while avoiding hurting the ViRUS at the same time, the ViRUS eventually infects Big G, and he starts wreaking havoc.

The Bitz in their mecha suit hear trouble at the Tech District, and they confront the person behind it: V-Big G, hulk smashing everything and flipping things around. They engage in a brawl around the district before duking it out in the air, with the Bitz Mecha dodging V-Big G's punch, crashing into the ground at the Garden District.

The Bitz Mecha were about to disinfect V-Big G, but suddenly, it awakens and violently slams the Bitz Mecha, sending the twins flying far away, and their disinfection spray even farther away, landing in the Industrial District. Nuzzie recovers Bunsen and herself with her aid kits, but she is unable to recover an artificial mecha suit, which has been smashed to bits.

The spray lands near Junior, who calls Bunsen up, who orders him to bring back the spray. Junior dashes throughout CRiTOPiA and some of its districts. Meanwhile, Bunsen and Nuzzie work together to defeat V-Big G themselves without the mecha suit. Despite not having as much power, they were able to confuse and trick V-Big G until he collapsed. Junior arrives with the disinfection spray, and Bunsen allows him to disinfect the defeated giant himself.

With Big G now recovered, Junior hugs the still reluctant Bunsen, and then the Bitz Twins, Junior, and nearly everyone else from the Garden District hugs Big G. Bunsen later gives the mecha suit away to Junior, who uses it to build a nice vacation house in the Garden District.
